NEW BALANCE FURON // FURON 2.0 MID-LEVEL

COMFORT

IS IT ANY GOOD?

When first putting these on feet, you straight away notice the comfort is right up there. With a RevLite insole and soft lining, the comfort is top notch. Well played New Balance!

FIT

HALF A SIZE UP!

As standard with New Balance, going half a size up is a must to ensure they fit correctly.

LOOKS

NOT TO EVERYONES TASTE!

The whole line of the Furon 2.0 is a very unique look. with the loud graphics on the medial and lateral side they are not for everyone. personally speaking, I am a huge fan of this colour way and the red is really nice and bright in person.

VALUE

BANG FOR YOUR BUCK

With this being two generation behind the current Furon 4.0 you can pick up the Furon 2.0 Mid Level for next to nothing with this pair costing just £15!

WHAT'S INCLUDED

WITH THIS BEING A TAKEDOWN BOOT, YOU'D BE FORGIVEN FOR EXPECTING A LOW QUALITY PRODUCT BUT I WAS PLEASANTLY SURPRISED IN THIS CASE.

UPPER

The mesh upper on these boots is fairly rigid at first but does break in really quickly. The flexibility is really nice and for a takedown, the quality is very nice. Almost half of the upper is left exposed with most of the back half having a fused overlay on.

LACES

In short, the laces are terrible and almost hurt to tie. Get news ones as soon as possible!

LINING

The liner on the Futon is fantastic. It feels like it is a suede material, and looks the same liner which was used on the Visaro 1 Pro. In short, very nice and there is a decent amount of padding.

SOLEPLATE AND STUD PATTERN

The soleplate is a one piece deal and out of the box is fairly stiff but once broken in like the upper, is very nice. This is the AG stud configuration with 21 studs underfoot for a stable and comfortable ride.

CAPTURED

THE VERDICT

FOR WHAT YOU CAN PICK THE FURON 2.0 MID-LEVEL FOR, THEY ARE A FANTASTIC VALUE BOOT.

THE COMFORT, DESIGN AND FIT OF THE BOOT DOESN'T SCREAM TAKEDOWN AND DOES RIVAL SOME OF THE HIGH END'S BOOTS OUT THERE.

A SOLID CHOICE FOR SOMEONE ON A TIGHT BUDGET OR SOMEONE WHO NEEDS A PAIR OF AG BOOTS FOR NOW AND THEN!
